About the Event

Ten West Center for the Arts

Ten West is a performing art center run by the Non-Profit Periko Partners. Our mission statement is simply to “help youth stay creative.” We strive to provide an environment for youth and adults to learn and be inspired through the arts.

We provide a place in Central Indiana where kids can express themselves. We help students find their passion and explore it further. We encourage creativity, which builds a well-rounded person. We are passionate about helping the community and the people within it.

We currently host a 300-member dance studio, music classes for small children, dance rehearsals for various groups, music lessons, and a church service on Sundays. Our upcoming events include the play Black Comedy July 18-20 and Fortville Remembers: A Patriotic Tribute on September 11.

About National Dance Day

Dance day, created by Nigel Lithgow of “So You Think You Can Dance” and the Dizzy Feet Foundation, promotes exercise and activity through dance!

There are two dance routines posted on the Dizzy Feet website that the public are encouraged to learn and perform on dance day.

We at Ten West will be walking through the Zumba routine and performing it as a flash mob at the end of the day!

All throughout the afternoon local dance and music acts will shine on our outdoor stage and entertain audiences young and old.

Between sets, volunteers will be teaching the dance routine for the flash mob to occur at the end of the night.

There will be lots of entertainment on site all afternoon, including local food trucks, a beer garden, dance themed video games, and more!
