

INT. HOSPITAL HALLWAY - NIGHT

KATHY, a nurse approximately the same age as Jainene pushes her down a long hallway in a wheel chair. Jainene has a neck-brace, a black eye, an arm in a sling, and her blouse is torn revealing a very plain bra strap.

KATHY

Your fiancé needs you to be strong.

You may doubt that he can hear you, but tell him that you love him. Tell him how much he means to you.

It'll be hard, but coming to visit even if he's in a coma should help him. Especially then.

JAINENE

I don't believe in anything right now.

INT. - EMERGENCY ROOM - NIGHT

The nurse wheels Jainene into the lobby. Bob's mother, MRS. JENKINS comes to Jainene.

JAINENE

How is he? Have you seen him?

MRS. JENKINS

They said he is stable now, but he's still unconscious. We just came down from his room. They're running more tests now.

JAINENE

Why is this...? What's going to happen?

MRS. JENKINS

Shhh. Everything's going to be okay. Everything's going to be okay...

Kathy touches Mrs. Jenkins forearm.