

29

Fig. 13

CHEMISTRY.

I had a beautiful
visit today with Tohru and Ryoko-in.
I took a Japanese
friend with me & she also enjoyed it very much. It is so calm, so peaceful, so perfect in its
age. We stayed almost

Kyoto
Feb. 15, 1969

Exp. 24. The instrument called a pulse-glass is formed as

Fig. 14

Fig. 15.

Two hours. And he said you & Ruth are coming back in April! Tomorrow he is going with us to two antique shops near by to see tea ceremony things, pottery. We saw some of his beautiful old things. We were so happy in the little tea room, where it was a little warmer & we had tea.

col. It will be manifested by continue until the

come
T.

s, and an open bulb formed at the

M. Charlton
Schooler's Mt.
New Jersey
07870

U. S. A.

