Attachment C: Detailed founder CV & short CV's the team members

“Showing quality is the best marketing strategy. If this can be achieved ecologically friendly, the better!”

Born in Berlin, Germany, 40-year-old founder and graduate economist Phil Founder comes from an entrepreneurial family and has gained solid business management skills through his business administration studies at universities in Germany and UK, and later as part of his consulting work for an international consulting firm in Munich (2005-2011).

As a sustainability expert at association XY, he knows the needs, problems and wishes of his colleagues and numerous consulting clients alike. He also is in touch with the branch in his role as a speaker, writer, author of several professional articles and organizer of industry events. During his previous consulting work he has lead diverse and complex international projects to success.

Through numerous international long distance trips, he is familiar with many cultures.

He values cooperation, teamwork and cultivates a cooperative management style during his professional and honorary fields of activity.

Corporate Form

Until corporate growth may require an expanded management team and possibly further investors, Green Consulting® continues to operate as a sole proprietorship in order to avoid unnecessary bureaucracy of a capital company. Care is taken to not de facto create a company constituted under civil law. For this purpose so far labor or service contracts were concluded.

With increasing liability risks and business growth, the legal form shall possibly be changed to a limited liability.
