

Funeral Biography Examples

---

Example 1: Brief and Heartfelt

Margaret Louise Thompson was born on February 14, 1942, in Atlanta, Georgia. She spent over 40 years as a nurse, caring for others with warmth and compassion.

Margaret loved gardening, reading, and cooking Sunday dinners for her family. She is remembered for her gentle spirit and unwavering kindness. Margaret leaves behind her husband, Robert, her three children, and six grandchildren, all of whom adored her.

Example 2: Professional and Personal Touch

Robert James Mitchell, born on March 9, 1955, in Austin, Texas, was a dedicated lawyer and loving father. After graduating from the University of Texas, he spent 35 years serving his community with integrity. Outside of work, Robert enjoyed fishing, golfing, and playing guitar. He was known for his quick wit and generous heart. Robert is survived by his wife, Linda, his two daughters, and many friends who will miss him dearly.

Example 3: Reflective and Celebratory

Emma Grace Williams, born on September 5, 1960, in Portland, Oregon, was a beloved teacher and mentor. She earned her degree from Oregon State University and dedicated her life to educating children, believing in the power of knowledge. Emma had a passion for travel, and her adventures took her to over 20 countries. She will be remembered for her curiosity, compassion, and boundless energy. Emma leaves behind her sister, Susan, and many former students who cherished her guidance.

Example 4: Focus on Family and Values

David Allen Cooper was born on May 18, 1938, in Seattle, Washington. A devoted family man, David worked as an engineer for 45 years, providing for his loved ones with dedication and pride. He enjoyed woodworking, playing chess, and spending time with his grandchildren. David's honesty, strength, and generosity were qualities admired by all who knew him. He is survived by his wife, Carol, their three children, and seven grandchildren, who will forever hold him in their hearts.

Example 5: Creative and Personal Legacy

Sarah Mae Johnson, born on November 12, 1970, in San Francisco, California, was an artist, musician, and cherished friend. She pursued her passion for art, creating pieces that inspired many. Sarah loved animals, hiking, and playing the piano. Known for her infectious laughter and bright smile, she brought joy to everyone around her. Sarah is survived by her parents, her brother, and countless friends who will remember her creative spirit.