

Sophomore Vice Presidential Debate

Speech

Hi. First I would like to thank you for taking time out of your day to watch this. It means a lot. Many of you may not know me so I'd like to introduce myself. My name is Jennifer Nwenyi and I would like to tell you why I think that I am the best candidate for sophomore vice president.

I am organized and completely dedicated to SGO. You're probably wondering how you are supposed to believe all of that but it's true. I am currently an active member of CSA, a branch of SGO. Ever since it started I've managed to not only attend every single meeting but also to be one of the last people to leave. I've visited the people who give us the okay on most of the things we do so many times, sometimes multiple times a day, trying to get information about what we should do and how we should do it so that it benefits you guys the most. I probably drove them to the point where they are annoyed by the sight of me. I helped plan Movie Night, sorry about showing a chick flick, by the way and the T shirt Design war and the money we make is contributing to our senior year so buy one in the GO store. If you elect me I will continue to dedicate my time to make your high school experience the best I could be.

Before I go on, I would just like to say that I am not one to make false promises. If it's not possible, it's not possible and I won't say otherwise. But if it is possible, I will do everything I can to make it happen. I will listen to you when you speak and ask around to see if what you want to happen can happen. I want to make you excited about coming to school. I want you to have Tech pride. I was thinking that, if it's possible, we could have a spirit week that could also serve as a competition between the classes. Another idea I have is a school wide carnival with a dunking machine and kettle corn. We are already planning a sophomore spring trip. Although none of this is concrete, if you elect me I will try to make it possible.

In the end it doesn't come down to experience or what you can or cannot do. It comes down to your drive, your passion. I know that I have that. I have worked so hard to make freshman year the best it could be. Did I succeed? That's something for you to decide. But know this: I will continue to try my hardest to make sure your high school experience is the best it could be. I will continue to run around the school to make sure that what needs to be done will get done. I will continue to be one of the first people to show up at the meetings and one of the last ones to leave. And you know why? Because I want to. The fact that I am standing here talking to you despite the fact that I have the worst case of stage fright is proof of that. I'm not running because of the title or the credits. And I don't mean to imply that my other candidates are running for those reasons. I just know that I am doing it because I want to make this school a better place. Since I started at Tech, I've loved it and all the friends I've made. So it shouldn't be a surprise that I would want to continue to work for my friends and school to make sophomore year great. So please help me do that. My name is Jen and I am here to serve you. Vote for me and I won't desert you. Vote Jen: because I care.
