

MLA Format and Pronoun Usage

Yes 😊	No ☹️
he, him, his	I, me, my she, her, hers	you, we, us
they, them, theirs	your, mine
3 rd person pronouns are acceptable in MLA format	1 st and 2 nd person pronouns are a No, No.
Exception: A personal pronoun used in a direct quotation from the text, is permissible.
In lieu of using 1 st and 2 nd person pronouns, try: the reader the audience society

MLA Format and Contraction Usage

Yes 😊	No ☹️
cannot	can't
did not	didn't
he is	he's
Using these words contributes to a formal tone and shows the reader that you are thorough and diligent about presenting the information in the proper way	Using shorten words contributes to an informal tone in writing and shows the reader that you may be acting out of laziness or using slang
Clarification: Using an apostrophe to show possession is permissible	