Basic technique of script writing for films

Journalism and Mass Communication Department of Arka Jain University organized an online lecture on the topic 'Basic technique of script writing for films'.

Mr. Shyam Kumar conducted the session successfully.

The main focus of the special lecture was to make students acquainted with script writing, how to convert a script into a screenplay, concept of stage plays and teleplays, technique of Scene setting, writing for actions of the protagonist, dialogue and character heading etc.

In different media professions script writer has a very important role. So it is very much important to know the art of script writing by each and every student. The better the script, the better will be the video or audio product, so it is always been said that it is better to write an effective script. Students can only write an effective script if he/she learns to know the art and technique of script writing. The motive of conducting this guest lecture was to make them aware about the nuances of script writing so that they will be able to write effective scripts and to perform better in their professional life.

The students were also taught how to do a script breakdown and scene breakdown. Students must be aware of these processes because these are important parts of script writing.

During this online lecture students were also shown the original Bollywood scripts. By seeing the Bollywood scripts students got an idea of how the scripts are written professionally in Bollywood (Indian film industry).

Apart from explaining the students about the technique of effective script writing, they were also given assignments to practice script writing. Each student completed their assignment and submitted the same.

This productive guest lecture helped students to understand the basic process and elements involved in effective script writing. This online guest lecture was productive for the students.
