

Soulmate Archetype Example

Anthony's note: Show me exactly who you see your soulmate as. Feel free to embellish and get really visual. What's her name? What clothes does she wear? What conversation topics does she discuss? What life philosophy does she have? What are her personality, behavior, and mannerisms like? Where does she frequent? What are her interests? Professions? Age? What does she do in her free time? In what neighborhoods does she live?

Again, be specific and thorough. No need to be perfect, though. Because right now you are simply drawing a character to help your mind visualize. You may embellish/exaggerate for effect.

Physical

She's more cute and adorable than "hot", with a small frame that's maintained without working out. Her brunette hair falls to the small of her back. Besides that she has a few tattoos on her arm and a septum piercing.

She's cute like Natalie Portman, Rachel Leigh Cook, or Cristina Ricci. Her tattoos are like Miley Cyrus's. And her piercings are like Zoe Kravitz's.

Style

She isn't a skirt-wearing "jappy" girl. She prefers a band t-shirt over an expensive top from Bloomingdale's and a backpack over a purse. You'd be hard pressed to find her in anything but jeans with a black beanie on.

Background

She's from LA and went to USC. Right now she's 24 years old.

Growing up she hated high school and often acted out, missed curfew and got in trouble. She had a difficult relationship with her parents as a teenager because she felt they could be neglectful. This is why she acted out and got in trouble – to get the attention she so desperately needed. The experience left her with emotional scars, but she's done a lot of work to battle her demons. As a result, she's more self-aware and empathetic than the average person.

She has 2 brothers, and is a middle child like me. She isn't close with her older brother. He's more guarded and standoffish. But she is close with her little brother and loves being a big sister to him. Since he's still in college, she'll take him to parties, treats him to nice meals and gives advice to him whenever he's lost.

She is especially close with her Mom who is an incredibly loving, kind and supportive person. They talk once a day.

Interests

She likes to ride her bike or skateboard to commute from place to place.

She enjoys reading graphic novels, biographies and novels.

She meditates every morning.

The only exercise she likes to do is yoga.

Her favorite band is sorority noise and when she goes to a show it's usually some loud grungy rock music at a smaller venue in Brooklyn.

She likes to travel but prefers not to leave the US weekend trips to explore new cities like Nashville, Austin, Seattle, and portland.

She likes being well connected within the art world and going to schwanky events instead of bars or clubs. Even though she is by no means wealthy, she has access to wealthy people and goes to their parties.

That said she likes doing activities on weekends instead of going drinking and feeling hungover.

Personality

If she took a personality test she'd be an extroverted introvert.

She can be a bit judgemental. If she doesn't like the people or situation she's in she'll be a quiet observer, often daydreaming her way out of her reality.

When she's with her friends she's much goofier. She makes weird voices, teases, acts sarcastic and loves to be playful.

She's open honest and vulnerable and has been through things that I have. When talking about things she doesn't pretend to understand everything. Instead she speaks honestly about herself and where she's at. Her fears, what she thinks she wants to achieve and what it's like to live with herself.

Her favorite movie is Oldboy. She likes horror movies and films that make her think. She's not much of a comedy fan because she doesn't think people desperately trying to be funny is that funny.

Other Qualities

She's ambitious and when it comes to pursuing her interests and career. This makes her independent and willing to sacrifice a night out to work on what she loves.

She's street-smart and wise beyond her years. But can also behave immaturely and enjoys making jokes that are shocking to get a reaction.

She can't cook and doesn't want to learn how to.

She's a clean nazi and will get super angsty if anything is left out and if her apartment isn't spotless. It's a fault that I like because it helps me be better.

She doesn't like public speaking or being in front of the camera. If she's trying to make a film she prefers to direct it, write it and exist behind the scenes.

She likes to stand up for the underdog but doesn't necessarily want to become their friend or spend time with them.

She believes in being kind to others which can be hypocritical because of how judgmental she can be.

She believes there's always two sides to every story and is always skeptical if she only here's one.

Whenever she passes by a homeless person she feels sad for them but rarely does anything about it.

She is super supportive and encouraging with people she loves. But she isn't afraid to be blunt and provide tough creative feedback to help make whatever they're doing better.

Relationships

She has a solid group of 4 girlfriends she met at Parsons. She doesn't really keep in touch with anyone from High School.

She sees her 4 best friends every weekend and has a text thread with them full of inside jokes. They're favorite thing to do is go to underground brooklyn shows, hang in the park, and go out to modest restaurants where they're regulars.

Pursuits

She's a talented painter and has ambitions to do make it her full time career. She's super focused and ambitious but is afraid to reach out to galleries, network, sell herself and get her work seen. To pay the bills she's a freelance graphic designer, picking up jobs for small local companies in the new york area. It is not creatively fulfilling to her.

Dealbreakers

- gets satisfaction out of being mean to others
- is dramatic
- is dishonest
- is unable to open up and be vulnerable with me
- don't feel comfortable with her
- isn't able to spend time with me at least 3 times a week (if we become exclusive)
- don't find her physically attractive
- not smart or capable of having deep conversations, whether they're intellectual or personal
- does drugs besides weed on a regular basis, drinks heavily often (more than 3 nights a week).
- isn't ambitious in any way
- her friends are terrible awful people
- doesn't want to have kids
- wouldn't make a good and loving mother
- doesn't like travel or new experiences
- isn't supportive of my pursuits
- is unfaithful

Where to find her

- creative networking events (like the one you gave me when I first started)
- writing meetups
- run clubs, workout classes (this is a maybe)
- brooklyn concerts
- bars between Williamsburg and Bushwick
- at friends birthdays if the friends are brooklynites and/or creatives