Issue Date: 17 May 2023

1. Target Market Determination (TMD)

This TMD is issued by Wise Australia Pty Ltd ("Wise", "we", "us") ACN 616 463 855. Wise holds an AFSL (number 513764) which allows us to offer non-cash payment products and foreign currency (FX) contracts.

Wise is committed to providing products that are suitable for the needs and objectives of its customers. As part of this commitment, Wise has developed a Target Market Determination (TMD) document for its products: Send Money, Multi-Currency Account, and Debit Card ("Wise products"). The purpose of the TMD is to outline the target market for each product and to ensure that the product is issued and distributed in a way that is consistent with the intended target market. The TMD is not intended to provide financial advice.

4. DISTRIBUTION CONDITIONS AND RESTRICTIONS

Distribution channels and conditions

The Wise Send Money and Multi-Currency Account products can be distributed separately. The Debit Card can only be distributed with a Multi-Currency Account.

Wise' products are distributed directly by Wise via:

- Wise' mobile app; or
- Wise' website

Wise' products can also be distributed through certain third parties with whom Wise has an agreement ("Wise Partners"). The distribution by Wise Partners is qualified and strictly controlled through the agreement between Wise and the Wise Partner. No third party may engage in the distribution of one of Wise' products unless they have entered into an agreement with Wise.

Distribution appropriateness

Distribution and marketing through these channels are strictly controlled, ensuring that the customers who acquire the product are more likely to be in the target market:

- Direct distribution by Wise: Wise has full control over the distribution and marketing efforts through its channels.
- Indirect distribution by Wise Partners: The third-party channels are strictly controlled through the agreement between Wise and the Wise Partner.

These limited distribution channels enable Wise to maintain a high level of oversight and ensure that the Wise products are reaching the intended target market.

5. TMD REVIEW

Periodic review

Wise will review the TMD annually, unless a review trigger occurs (see below).

Review in case of trigger events

Wise will also review the TMD if any of the following occur:

- Where there is significant dealing outside the target market;
- Where there is a significant number of complaints that indicate a potential disconnect between the product and target market (either directly received by Wise or indirectly by a Wise Partner);
- Where there is a material change to the product or distribution model that could potentially impact the target market;
- Where Wise has detected significant issues with the distribution model or target market through its day-to-day activities;
- Where there are changes in the regulatory requirements or expectations that may require this TMD to be changed.

Distributors - Information and reporting

As part of the process of monitoring and reviewing the TMD, each Wise Partner that qualifies as a distributor must provide the following information to Wise on a regular basis and/or ad-hoc when the Wise Partner identifies a significant increase in complaints related to the Wise product or when requested by Wise:

- Complaints data and/or general customer feedback on Wise product, which may for example indicate a potential disconnect between the product and target market or issue with the overall product performance;
- Requests for information that the distributor has received from customers in relation to the suitability of the product.
