

SLAM POETRY

Slam Poetry started was invented by Marc Smith in the 1980's in Chicago. When this local poet and construction worker felt that poetry had lost its charm, he started organising weekly events. If you too, feel that words will wake the world from drudgery to intellectual nirvana, Amity International Literature Festival's Slam Poetry will quench your thirst.

There will be two rounds for the event:

1. Polemical Prelims

~The contestants are required to bring self composed poems, ranging from conventional Nerd Slam, Story Slam, Anarchy Slam to any free verse topic of their choice.

~No props or pre recorded music is allowed on the stage.

~10 contestants will be chosen on the basis of subject matter, delivery and elocution for the final round.

2. Fatal Finale

~The 10 chosen contestants will present their own works in front of the audience and judges, there are no restrictions on the topic.

~The top 3 contestants from this round will be awarded with prizes and adulation.

(The recitation of the poem cannot be longer than 3 minutes)
