

100 Dead Metaphor Examples

- The face of the earth: Used to describe the planet's surface.
- Break a leg: Commonly used to wish performers good luck.
- On the ball: Referring to being alert and competent.
- Under the weather: Denoting feeling unwell.
- Hit the nail on the head: To express something accurately.
- Time flies: Reflecting the fleeting nature of time.
- Backbone of the country: Describing essential support.
- All ears: Indicating full attention.
- Burning the midnight oil: Connoting late-night work.
- Rolling in the dough: Referring to wealth.
- Bite the bullet: Facing a difficult situation bravely.
- Walking on air: Signifying feeling extremely happy.
- Lend a hand: Meaning to offer assistance.
- In hot water: Conveying being in trouble.
- Head over heels: Describing being deeply in love.
- Fit as a fiddle: Indicating excellent health.
- On cloud nine: Representing extreme happiness.
- Put your foot in your mouth: Referring to saying something embarrassing.
- Break the ice: To initiate conversation in a social setting.
- Piece of cake: Describing an easy task.
- Born with a silver spoon: Referring to someone born into wealth.
- Heart of gold: Describing someone kind and compassionate.
- Catch someone's eye: To attract someone's attention.

- Cost an arm and a leg: Indicating something very expensive.
- Hold your horses: To ask someone to be patient.
- Barking up the wrong tree: Pursuing a mistaken course of action.
- Close as a clam: Describing someone secretive.
- Turn a blind eye: Ignoring something intentionally.
- Green with envy: Describing jealousy.
- Grin from ear to ear: Signifying a broad smile.
- Raining cats and dogs: Describing heavy rain.
- Throw in the towel: Giving up on a task or situation.
- Break the news: To inform someone of something.
- Hit the hay: Referring to going to bed.
- Hold your horses: Asking someone to wait or be patient.
- Spill the beans: Revealing a secret.
- Skeleton in the closet: Describing a hidden shameful secret.
- Old as the hills: Indicating something very old.
- Read between the lines: To understand an underlying meaning.
- Silver lining: Finding something positive in a negative situation.
- Running out of steam: Losing energy or enthusiasm.
- Turn over a new leaf: To make a fresh start.
- Salt of the earth: Describing someone honest and dependable.
- Going in circles: Repeating the same actions without progress.
- Driving me up the wall: Extremely frustrating.
- Get a taste of your own medicine: Experiencing what you've caused others.
- Paint the town red: To go out and enjoy oneself.
- Apple of my eye: Something or someone cherished.
- Jumping on the bandwagon: Following a popular trend.
- Flying off the handle: Reacting angrily.

- Cry over spilled milk: Worrying about something that can't be changed.
- Nose to the grindstone: Working hard.
- Cost a pretty penny: Something expensive.
- Back to the drawing board: Starting over from the beginning.
- Up in arms: Angry or protesting.
- Chew the fat: Chatting or talking casually.
- Give someone the cold shoulder: Ignoring someone intentionally.
- Straight from the horse's mouth: Getting information directly from the source.
- Chomping at the bit: Eager to start something.
- Fish out of water: Feeling uncomfortable in a new situation.
- Let the cat out of the bag: Revealing a secret.
- Stabbed in the back: Betrayed by someone.
- Sweating bullets: Extremely nervous or anxious.
- Easy as pie: Referring to a task that's simple to complete.
- In a nutshell: Summing up something concisely.
- Hit the sack: Going to bed.
- On thin ice: In a risky or dangerous situation.
- The ball is in your court: It's your turn to take action.
- A penny for your thoughts: Asking someone what they're thinking.
- Pulling your leg: Teasing or joking with someone.
- Beat around the bush: Avoiding a direct answer or topic.
- Caught red-handed: Caught in the act of doing something wrong.
- Walking a fine line: Balancing on the edge of a decision.
- Spinning your wheels: Engaging in unproductive activity.
- Throwing caution to the wind: Taking a risk without worrying about consequences.
- Burning the candle at both ends: Overworking yourself.

- Break the camel's back: The last straw that leads to a final outcome.
- Waiting for the other shoe to drop: Anticipating something negative to happen.
- Batten down the hatches: Preparing for a challenging situation.
- Cry wolf: Raising a false alarm.
- Turn a blind eye: Ignoring something intentionally.
- Lost in the shuffle: Overlooked in a busy situation.
- A chip on your shoulder: Holding a grudge or being confrontational.
- Pulling out all the stops: Using every available option or resource.
- Between a rock and a hard place: Facing a difficult choice.
- Down in the dumps: Feeling sad or depressed.
- Go the extra mile: Putting in extra effort.
- Get off your high horse: Asking someone to stop acting superior.
- Water under the bridge: Referring to past events that no longer matter.
- Cut corners: Taking shortcuts to save time or money.
- Hit the nail on the head: Accurately describing or identifying something.
- Running on fumes: Operating with very little energy or resources.
- Playing with fire: Engaging in risky behavior.
- Burning bridges: Damaging relationships irreparably.
- All that glitters is not gold: Things that appear attractive may not be valuable.
- Kicking the bucket: Euphemism for dying.
- Swinging for the fences: Taking a bold and ambitious approach.
- Don't count your chickens before they hatch: Don't make plans based on uncertain outcomes.
- Back to square one: Returning to the beginning of a process.
- Spill the beans: Reveal a secret unintentionally
- Copyright @ Examples.com