
Fresh Graduate Cover letter for Software Engineer Position Example

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am a recent Computer Science graduate from XYZ University, and I am excited to apply for the Software Engineer position at your esteemed organization. My academic experience has given me a solid foundation in computer science fundamentals and my internship at LMN Corp has provided me with practical experience in software development.

During my internship, I developed a user-friendly inventory management system using Python and Django, which was well-received and is currently in use. I am known for my problem-solving skills, quick learning ability, and a strong passion for coding.

I am eager to contribute my energy, positivity, and technical skills to your team and grow as a software engineer under the mentorship of your experienced team.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
