Dear Hiring Manager,

As an experienced HTML developer, I'm excited to apply for the HTML developer position in your company. My experience in HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript, paired with my creativity and problem-solving skills, makes me a strong candidate for this role.

At ABC Company, I was tasked with building and maintaining client websites, often working directly with clients to translate their vision into a functional, attractive website. In this role, I honed my coding skills and developed an understanding of UX design principles.

I'm looking forward to the opportunity to bring my skill set and passion for web development to your team.

Sincerely,
