

Absolute Adjective Examples

- The sky is infinite; you can't measure its expanse.
- His wisdom is absolute; there's no questioning it.
- This answer is correct; there are no errors in it.
- Your claim is false; it isn't based on any facts.
- The decision is final; no more discussions are needed.
- She has an immaculate record; not a single blemish can be found.
- The cake is homemade; no store-bought elements are in it.
- His statement is unambiguous; it cannot be interpreted in any other way.
- Her performance was flawless; not a single mistake was made.
- The verdict is unanimous; all the jurors agreed.
- His cooking skills are amateur; he has never been professionally trained.
- The painting is authentic; it has been verified by experts.
- This is an indigenous plant; it grows only in this region.
- Her joy is unfeigned; she's genuinely happy.
- His qualifications are irrefutable; you can't deny his expertise.
- She is pregnant; it's a condition that's not gradable.
- The item is non-negotiable; the terms cannot be altered.
- The document is confidential; it should not be shared.
- His argument is irrelevant; it doesn't apply to the discussion.
- The event was historic; it had a profound impact on the world.
- The contract is binding; both parties must adhere to it.
- Her victory was decisive; there was no doubt about it.
- The answer is inevitable; it cannot be avoided.

- His loyalty is unquestionable; he has always been faithful.
- The statement is literal; there's no figurative meaning.
- The outcome is certain; there are no other possibilities.
- His silence was deafening; it spoke volumes.
- Her beauty is ethereal; it's as if she's not of this world.
- The fabric is synthetic; it's not made from natural fibers.
- The room was spotless; there was not a speck of dirt.
- Her theory is unproven; it hasn't been verified yet.
- The dish is vegetarian; it contains no animal products.
- The verdict is guilty; he broke the law.
- His actions are illegal; they go against the law.
- Her alibi is concrete; she has evidence to back it up.
- The event is annual; it happens once a year.
- His conduct was impeccable; he followed all the rules.
- The sky was cloudless; not a single cloud in sight.
- The setting was idyllic; it looked like a painting.
- The diamond is genuine; it's not a fake.
- The baby is innocent; he knows nothing of the world.
- The soup is homogeneous; it's evenly mixed.
- The forest is dense; it's filled with trees.
- The liquid is transparent; you can see through it.
- The book is complete; no pages are missing.
- His claim is invalid; it's not based on facts.
- The question is rhetorical; it doesn't require an answer.
- The area is residential; only houses are here.
- Her interest is academic; she studies it but doesn't practice it.
- His style is minimalist; he keeps things simple.
- The puzzle is intricate; it has many complex pieces.
- The painting is abstract; it doesn't represent anything specific.
- Her health is optimal; she's in the best possible condition.
- The idea is original; no one else has thought of it.

- The solution is universal; it applies to all cases.
- The deal is exclusive; it's not offered to anyone else.
- Her singing is operatic; it's suitable for opera.
- The matter is urgent; it requires immediate attention.
- The instruction is explicit; it leaves no room for interpretation.
- His action was spontaneous; he didn't plan it.
- The reaction was immediate; it happened right away.
- The sound was inaudible; it couldn't be heard.
- His reflexes are quick; he responds immediately.
- The food is organic; it's grown without synthetic chemicals.
- The air is pure; there are no pollutants.
- The style is vintage; it's from an earlier time.
- The wine is fermented; it's gone through a chemical process.
- The sculpture is massive; it's very large.
- The party was wild; it was out of control.
- The theory is evolutionary; it's based on the concept of evolution.
- The contract is binding; both parties must adhere to it.
- Her victory was decisive; there was no doubt about it.
- The answer is inevitable; it cannot be avoided.
- His loyalty is unquestionable; he has always been faithful.
- The statement is literal; there's no figurative meaning.
- The outcome is certain; there are no other possibilities.
- His silence was deafening; it spoke volumes.
- Her beauty is ethereal; it's as if she's not of this world.
- The fabric is synthetic; it's not made from natural fibers.
- The room was spotless; there was not a speck of dirt.
- Her theory is unproven; it hasn't been verified yet.
- The dish is vegetarian; it contains no animal products.
- The verdict is guilty; he broke the law.
- His actions are illegal; they go against the law.
- Her alibi is concrete; she has evidence to back it up.

- The event is annual; it happens once a year.
- His conduct was impeccable; he followed all the rules.
- The sky was cloudless; not a single cloud in sight.
- The setting was idyllic; it looked like a painting.
- The diamond is genuine; it's not a fake.
- The baby is innocent; he knows nothing of the world.
- The soup is homogeneous; it's evenly mixed.
- The forest is dense; it's filled with trees.
- The liquid is transparent; you can see through it.
- The book is complete; no pages are missing.
- His claim is invalid; it's not based on facts.
- The question is rhetorical; it doesn't require an answer.
- The area is residential; only houses are here.
- Her interest is academic; she studies it but doesn't practice it.
- His style is minimalist; he keeps things simple.