

Pronoun Sentence Examples

- He is going to the market.
- She has a collection of vintage stamps.
- It is raining heavily outside.
- They are planning a trip to Europe.
- The cake is delicious; I want another slice.
- You should try this new recipe.
- We visited the museum last weekend.
- Who is at the door?
- Whose book is this on the table?
- Someone left their jacket in the classroom.
- Nobody knows the answer to the riddle.
- Everyone is excited about the upcoming concert.
- The cat chased its tail because it was playful.
- Ours is the house with the blue roof.
- The decision is yours to make.
- Whom did you invite to the party?
- She and I are attending the seminar.
- The chocolates are for him.
- They have a dog and its name is Max.
- We went to the beach, but they stayed home.
- This is the dress I wanted.
- Those are the students who won the competition.
- Her performance was outstanding.
- His car is brand new.

- Its color is quite unique.
- You and he are in the same team.
- Someone needs to claim their lost wallet.
- None of the students were absent.
- Which is the right path to take?
- These are the books I recommended.
- What are you doing this weekend?
- Whichever route you take, you'll reach the destination.
- Their plan sounds interesting.
- Mine is the red bicycle.
- Neither of them is to blame.
- Both the options are viable.
- Some of the cookies have chocolate chips.
- Each of the participants gets a medal.
- One should always respect their elders.
- Another opportunity will come your way.
- That is exactly what I meant.
- Such was her charisma that everyone was drawn to her.
- Whoever finishes first will get a prize.
- Yourself and Peter are in charge of the decorations.
- They gave themselves a break after the hard work.
- Anything is possible if you believe.
- Everything is going according to plan.
- Nothing can stop us now.
- She is as talented as he is.
- Few of the students have submitted their assignments.
- Many are called, but few are chosen.
- All are welcome to the event.
- Somebody called for you.
- Anybody can participate in the contest.
- Neither John nor I am responsible.

- Either path leads to the castle.
- Both Sarah and I are from New York.
- Myself and James will handle the project.
- You need to believe in yourself.
- They enjoyed themselves at the party.
- The gift is for you and me.
- Whoever you choose will be fine with us.
- Who is responsible for this?
- Whose idea was this?
- She was the one who solved the mystery.
- Any of these shirts will look good on you.
- Such incidents should be reported.
- He is the one who deserves the award.
- Which of these dresses do you like?
- That was a close call, wasn't it?
- Someone like him is hard to find.
- Whoever brought these cookies, thank you!
- Everything is prepared for the party.
- None of the guests arrived on time.
- Neither the car nor the bike is mine.
- Everybody had a great time at the concert.
- Whichever option you choose, stick with it.
- Myself and Jane completed the project ahead of time.
- They ought to finish the assignment themselves.
- Somebody must have taken my umbrella.
- Anybody can participate in the race.
- Neither Sarah nor I know the answer.
- Both options have their advantages.
- All are welcome to join the club.
- Everybody is excited about the upcoming event.
- Nothing can ruin our plans.

- She sings as beautifully as he does.
- Few students have submitted their essays.
- Many attended the seminar.
- One should always be kind to others.
- Another day, another opportunity.
- That is the same dress I wore.
- Such dedication leads to success.
- Whoever arrives first can choose the seats.
- Yourself and Mark can handle the presentation.
- They gave themselves a well-deserved break.
- Anything is possible with determination.
- Everything is under control.
- Nobody likes to be late.
- Many enjoyed the movie, while others found it boring.