

Canine Compass

In lands of green and skies so vast,
A four-pawed guide, through life's contrast,
With every step and playful prance,
Leads the way in life's great dance.

Four-Pawed Pathfinder - Opening lines:

A trailblazer in fields of dew,
With nose to ground, a path anew,
Instincts sharp as the eagle's flight,
Guiding through day and starlit night.

Tail-wagging Trailblazer - Middle verses:

In joyous leaps, a course is set,
Through life's maze without a fret,
Wagging tail, a beacon bright,
Illuminating paths with light.

North Star with a Snout - Closing stanzas:

In darkest hours, a steady star,
Guiding homeward, from afar,
With snout upraised to the moon's glow,
A loyal compass, true and bold.

This journey we embark, side by side,
With canine compass as my guide,
Through thick and thin, in sun and rain,
A bond unbroken, a mutual gain.
