

Ocean's Melody

She was created by God Before Adam walked the earth dolphins, sharks and cod have dwelled in her since birth

Home to many specimen whom provoke adrenaline an adventure for many:
Emile Gagnan and Cousteau written about by others, even Edgar Allen Poe

Her depths are filled with secrets Kept them well, she has The lives she's stolen plummets since the beginning of time has passed

She's every pigment of the rainbow her surface is regarded as blue, though, beneath her bosom, hues galore corals, crabs and fish and whales Her beauty is everywhere, take a look follow their bubbles, leading like trails

Be still, and listen carefully those fish are singing her song You can hear the oceans melody playing all day long

Her children were born knowing all the words
More beautiful, more uniform, than all those singing birds
But why is it so quiet?
It's funny that you've asked Mankind has abused her to toss away his trash

So what is her song about?
Listen close and you'll see her time is beginning to run out she's whimpering "save me"

Remember, the ocean is our friend Her waters never change from the beginning 'til her end nor does her gifts to meet our needs Her waters are not a dump!
We must take care of her!
To keep our seafood plump!
