

Self Taught Artist Bio

---

Name and Artistic Medium:

 Rachel Kim – Self-Taught Abstract Painter

Biography:

Rachel Kim is an accomplished self-taught artist from Denver, Colorado. Over the last fifteen years, Rachel has honed her skills through personal study and experimentation, drawing inspiration from the natural world and her extensive travels. Without formal artistic education, she has successfully carved out a niche in the art community, celebrated for her vibrant, emotive, and highly original abstract paintings.

Artistic Style:

Rachel's artistic expression is characterized by bold color palettes and dynamic textures. Her paintings are a visual exploration of emotions and experiences, using abstract forms to capture complex feelings and moments in time. She often incorporates mixed media elements, such as collage and found objects, to add depth and intrigue to her canvases.

Major Works and Achievements:

Her artwork has been featured in numerous solo and group exhibitions across the country, including a recent solo show at the Contemporary Art Center of Denver, which received widespread acclaim. Rachel's piece "Euphoria" was acquired by the Denver Art Museum as part of its permanent collection, marking a significant milestone in her career.

Philosophy or Artistic Vision:

Rachel believes in the transformative power of art as a medium for personal and collective expression. She sees her lack of formal training not as a limitation, but as a freedom that allows her to explore and create without boundaries. Her goal is to connect with viewers on an emotional level, encouraging them to interpret her work through the lens of their own experiences.

Recent and Upcoming Projects:

Rachel is currently working on a series titled "Inner Landscapes," which delves into the concept of mental and emotional landscapes through abstract forms. This series is set to be exhibited at a major gallery in New York City next year. Additionally, she conducts workshops and speaks at community events to inspire other aspiring artists who may not have formal training.
